Under AKAM, A three day “Zero Waste Mart” has been organised by Coal India in association with Kolkata Society for Cultural Heritage (KSCH) as a part of celebration of Azaadi ka Amrit Mahotsav starting from today. The uniqueness of the mart lies in the fact that 100% products are created by Women Self Help Group (SHG) Members working together and earning their livelihood out of creating and selling useful items with materials discarded as waste. A variety of useful products like Bags, Organisers, Tables, Chairs beautifully transformed from waste has got the perfect blend of being creative and being eco-friendly at the same time.

The underlying theme of “Go Green Drink Clean” was brought out through the initiatives for encouraging the employees and general public to think before they bin anything as waste, as there can be some use in it.

The mart also displayed the Collages made by CIL Employees on the theme Go Green Drink Clean in a recently held competition under the 75 years celebration campaign.

All the revenue generated out of the mart shall be given to the SHG Members as their earning. A total revenue of Rs 26,000 was generated which helped around 69 women SHG Members. The initiative was also encouraged by Hon’ble Minister of Coal, Sri Prahlad Joshi through his tweet.
