Shaheed Smarak

The Martyrs' Memorial, also known as Shaheed Smarak, is a life-size bronze statue of seven young men who sacrificed their lives in the Quit India movement (August 1942), to hold the national flag on the (now) Secretariat building, Patna.

During the height of Quit India Movement in 1942, eminent Gandhian freedom fighter Dr. Anugrah Narain was arrested while he was trying to unfurl the national flag in Patna. As a strong reaction, a group of seven young students decided to forcefully unfurl the national flag in Patna and were mercilessly shot dead by the British. Martyred in the name of the flag they wanted to hold atop the Secretariat.

The foundation stone of Martyr's Memorial was laid on 15 August 1947, by the governor of Bihar, Mr. Jairam Das Daulatram. The sculptor Devi Prasad Raychoudhury built the bronze statue of the seven students with the national flag.

The Martyrs' Memorial, also known as Shaheed Smarak, is a life-size Bronze statue of seven young men who sacrificed their lives in the Quit India movement (August 1942), to hoist the national flag on the (now) Secretariat building, Patna.

During the height of Quit India Movement in 1942, eminent Gandhian freedom fighter Dr. Anugrah Narain was arrested while he was trying to unfurl the national flag in Patna. As a strong reaction, a group of seven young students decided to forcefully unfurl the national flag in Patna and were mercilessly shot dead by the British. Martyred in the name of the flag they wanted to hoist atop the Secretariat.

Following are the martyrs, whose names are engraved on Martyr's Memorial

1. Umakant Prasad Sinha – Class IX, Narendrapur, Saran
2. Ramanand Singh – Class IX, Sahadat Nagar, Patna
3. Satish Chandra Jha – Class X, Khadahara, Bhagalpur
4. Jagatpati Kumar – Ilyear College, Kharati, Aurangabad
5. Devipada Choudhry – Class IX, Silhat, Jamalpur
6. Rajendra Singh – Class X, Banwari Chak, Saran
7. Ramgovind Singh – Class IX, Dasharatha, Patna

While the oldest among them was a college student, the rest were only young boys, no older than 17 studying in classes 9 or 10. But even as young as these men were, they became symbols of New India which was unafraid and revelled in its freedom.

The foundation stone of Martyr's Memorial was laid on 15 August 1947, by the governor of Bihar, Mr. Jairam Das Daulatram. The sculptor Devi Prasad Roychoudhury built the bronze statue of the seven students with the national flag.
