Flowers come in a wide variety of colours, smells, and styles. Placing flowers in your home or in your workplace is extremely beneficial when it comes to improving moods. A good floral arrangement can keep you in a happy state of mind throughout the day. Flowers symbolize different things in different occasions. Some flowers represent love, calmness, purity, beauty and so on. Flowers are indispensable in all celebration. Flowers are important in an occasion for gifting as well for decorating the location for the celebration. As the world's climate changes, plants and animals have adapted by expanding into new territory and even shifting their breeding seasons. Now, research suggests that over the past 75 years, flowers have also adapted to rising temperatures and declining ozone by altering ultraviolet (UV) pigments in their petals. To highlight such issues and create awareness about saving our Mother Nature flower arrangement competition was organized. Creativity was unleashed among the ladies and more than 15 participants contributed towards making the event a great success.
