Shri. Pramod Agrawal, Chairman, CIL virtually inaugurated a ‘Workshop on MDO Contract 2022’, organised by Central Coalfields Ltd. at Darbhanga House, Ranchi. Dr. B. Veera Reddy, DT, CIL also addressed the workshop virtually. Shri. P.M. Prasad, CMD, CCL, Shri. Manoj Kumar CMD, CMPDI also spoke on the occasion. Over 100 participants from CIL and its companies are attending the two day workshop.

Mine Developer and Operator (MDO) is a model of operation of mines adopted in India. The MDO model was adopted in India because of limited resources which impacted production levels and also because subcontracting mining operations to private players was a more capital efficient way forward to improve production. It is imperative to note that the law does not define what an MDO is, and the MDO model is not a creature of a statute. Still, it is being increasingly adopted as the preferred model of coal mining operations in India due to the balance of autonomy it provides between private players and the PSUs. It is perceived as a more economically feasible mode of operation for both players. In this note, the authors have covered the working model of an MDO and the important legislations on coal mining in India.
